

I would like to comment on the no-call list that has been in effect in the State of Indiana. Before signing up for the list, our household would get 5-10 solicitor calls PER DAY. This became very annoying, especially after working hours. Once we placed our name on the no-call list, our unwanted phone calls were cut to almost none. Now, we only get 1-5 calls PER WEEK. This has made our evenings much more enjoyable that we are not bothered by the unwanted phone calls trying to solicit business.

I urge the FCC to continue this great service for our state and for others as well.
